

Rules for the Raffle of Hope for Wild Animals 2023

Preamble

The organizer of the Raffle is the Univet Nature Endowment Fund, whose head office is located at 427 avenue Font-Roubert – 06250 MOUGINS – SIREN 883 663 114. Univet Nature was created in 2018 by veterinarians and ecologists to respond to several reports :

- Animal and plant biodiversity is collapsing all over the planet, this collapse is fastest in the tropics where the stakes are greatest,
- In these regions, the destruction of human origin is accelerated by poverty,
- This destruction in turn creates more poverty there, and increases the risk of pandemics,
- Actions for the conservation of tropical natural environments are effective when they are based on programs to combat poverty and for education,
- There are many associations committed to these programs, supported by very committed people, and who are all limited in their actions by the lack of money.

Univet Nature was therefore created to support nature protection associations selected by the Fund for the relevance of their program, the commitment and integrity of their leaders. At the beginning of 2023, Univet Nature finances the actions carried out by 13 associations under French law working in Madagascar, South-East Asia, Polynesia, the Mediterranean and Provence.

The draw will be based on dedicated software such as <http://my2lbox.com/fr/tirage-au-sort-liste>. The choice of this software and the terms of its use will be validated by Maître Marjorie Hernandez.

The participant wins when the number of the ticket he has purchased is drawn. The immediate elimination of the participant in the Raffle can be carried out without delay or notice, if it turns out that there has been cheating.

Article 6 – Withdrawal of Lots

The 100 winners will receive their Lot (dematerialized gift voucher) by email, no later than June 30, 2023.

The Lot will be definitively lost in the event that Univet Nature fails to contact the winner after the draw (invalid email address and postal address), or if the winner declares that he refuses the Lot. The Lot will then be put back into play during future operations.

Article 7 – Presentation of the Challenge

- The Univet Nature Endowment Fund will reward the 50 most committed people in the sale of Raffle tickets, but only if they are registered for the Challenge. For that, the future Challenger must get a Challenge number from the Contacts Alain Moussu (alain.moussu@univetnature.org / tel : +33 6 23 75 70 94) or Marie Jacquier (marie.jacquier@univetnature.org / tel : +33 7 70 24 84 51).
- Everyone can however participate in the Raffle, i.e. buy tickets, without participating in the Challenge. You can also participate in the Challenge without buying tickets yourself.
- The Raffle ticket purchase form will include an optional question : If you participate in a Challenge or if you support a Challenge, enter its number here.
- The Challenge numbers will be ranked by decreasing number of occurrences among the purchased Raffle tickets. The 50 most frequently assigned numbers on a ticket will entitle the holder to a Reward.
- To be qualified as the winner of the Challenge in one of the first 3 categories described in Article 8, it is also necessary to reach a minimum threshold of occurrences. The number of Rewards distributed can therefore be less than 50 : it will be between 43 and 50.
- The list of Challenge winners and the Rewards awarded to each will be validated in the presence of the same people as for the draw on June 16, 2023.

Article 8 – Challenge Rewards
